

Your attendance at church is not just for you – whether you are there or not is a witness to others as well. Your enthusiasm for hearing God’s Word and sharing the feast Christ gives will influence others to put Christ first in their lives. Your lack of enthusiasm will have just the opposite effect. Choose wisely.

Jesus used the illustration of a house built on rock enduring wind and storm because it had been built on rock. But the house with a sandy foundation was destroyed. Jesus said, “Whoever hears my words and does them is like one building on rock.”

Gather with God’s people each week to hear and receive Christ. If you are away from home look at the yellow pages – you will find a place where you can worship. Not only you will be blessed by worshiping each week but all who love you and respect you will be blessed as well. Make a commitment to hear God’s word.
